

It's probably been awhile. Test your SAT skills.

1. Which test prep company offers SAT courses with class sizes as low as three students per instructor, tailors the class schedule and the curriculum to the needs of each student, and includes comprehensive supplementary materials with three full-length practice tests all for under $40 per instructional hour?
 - A. Sure Prep
 - B. Sylvan
 - C. Princeton
 - D. Kaplan
 - E. Customized College Prep of Arizona

Read on to discover how Customized College Prep of Arizona prepares your teenagers for the PSAT/SAT, without breaking the bank.

Your child has exciting career aspirations.

Getting into the University of Choice is the first step.

SATImpact

Attending the ideal college is a bridge to a successful career. Standardized test scores are a major component of college admissions, and a superior score can gain your child access to a host of scholarships, lowering your financial burden over the next four years. Love or hate standardized testing, it plays a commanding role in your child's future.

CCPPhilosophy

All students should have access to affordable, personalized test prep from smart, interactive instructors. With most small group SAT prep classes ranging from $1,300 to $1,700, the average family does not have the resources to adequately prepare their children. Our eight week SAT course is just $849.

Students should improve their critical thinking, reasoning, and time management skills, not how to memorize content. Our course includes two sessions focused solely on strategies to improve these skills and how to apply them in an SAT testing environment.

Students don't like to learn concepts they already know. Our comprehensive SmartClass™ introductory exam analyzes your child's math, reading, and writing fundamentals. We group like-minded students into the same course and minimize exposure to the topics your child has mastered. A truly customized approach to teaching delivers optimum results.

Learning can be fun. Corralling teenagers into another bland classroom doesn't work. Our instructors, experts in math and English, utilize interactive activities to engage all students in fun, productive learning. For example, our course caps with a group game of Jeopardy – SAT style of course.

Our customized, budget-conscious courses will help your child flourish when the stakes are high!
