Responsible Use Agreement

Bring Your Own Technology is a SUSD initiative to allow students to bring their personally owned mobile learning devices to school for the purpose of instructional use in the classroom. Mobile learning devices may include laptops, tablets, eReaders, iPod touch, iPads, Nintendo DS/I, digital cameras, or other devices that the teacher considers appropriate for instructional use. Copper Ridge BYOT is bell to bell, teacher directed.

If you allow your child to bring a mobile learning device to school, please discuss your expectations of technology usage and device care with your child. The following expectations apply while on campus or other school related events and activities.

- The mobile learning device is to be used for educational purposes only.
- The mobile learning device may only be used at the teacher's discretion.
- The mobile learning device may not be charged while on campus.
- The school, teacher, or other families are not responsible for any damage or theft of your mobile learning device. Student is responsible for their own device.
- The school, teacher, or other families are not responsible for any fees/charges that are incurred through the usage of the mobile learning device while on campus or during any other school related events and activities.
- The school, teacher, or other families are not responsible for storage of any mobile learning device while on campus or at any other school related events and activities. Your child is expected to appropriately store the device until the teacher gives directions for its usage.
- Students accessing the internet may only connect to the school's wireless guest network.
- All usage of the mobile learning device, including materials accessed through it, will be ethical and legal.
- Students will not attempt to harm, modify, add, destroy, or interfere with school systems, hardware, or software.
- Students will respect the property of other students and will report any misuse of devices or the SUSD guest network to their teacher or administration.

As with any activity on our campus, students are expected to follow the district's Code of Conduct and to maintain an environment of respect, responsibility, and citizenship.
