

Inspire is a no-cost, week-long, residential college readiness program for American Indian high school students from tribal nations in Arizona.

Participants stay in a residence hall and develop academic and personal success behaviors while connecting with ASU American Indian students, staff and faculty.

During the week, students integrate reading, writing, and science skills through culturally-relevant, project-based learning, learn about majors and careers, get familiar with student support services at ASU and meet new friends in an immersive campus-life experience.
