

Good evening Mohave families, this is Chris Asmussen calling with weekly announcements.

Plans are being made to honor our 8th grade students with a Promotional CAR Parade on Thursday, May 21st starting at 8 AM. Mohave is working with PTO, the Charros, Scottsdale Police, and has even secured 2 Parada Del Sol announcers to read your child's name and words of love and encouragement from your family. Please look for more information to come out at the end of this week.

In addition, plans are being made for returning Mohave school materials like library books, choir dress, athletic uniforms, and the Chomebooks that are on loan. We are hopeful that on May 18th and May 19th the Governor's Stay at Home orders will be eased enough to accommodate parents dropping these materials off.

Yearbooks are at the printer and are on target to being delivered to the school in the very near future. We're finalizing these plans to get them into the hands of those that ordered them.

As you can see, this academic year, and remote learning are beginning to wrap up. Engagement remains high, largely due to the expectations that parents have of their students. Thank you. Thank you for supporting your Mohave teachers, for supporting the school, and for supporting your student by becoming their learning partner. Lessons will continue through May 15th, and the last week of the academic year will be devoted to giving those student who need it, a little extra time to get their work in and a final push to finish this year strong. The Mohave learning community IS Mighty! The last 10 percent of anything is the toughest, and we know that our teachers, our students, and our families have the grit to run through the finish line.

This coming week is Teacher Appreciation Week. We would not have been able to keep school going without the dedication and commitment of our AMAZING teachers. I am blessed to be surrounded by so many caring and talented educators. Please join me and our parent community this week by sending your teachers an email of gratitude.

We hope that your family remains healthy and safe. Thank you and have a good evening.
