

ELA High School Supplemental Book List Revised, August 2023

Introduction and Background:

The High School Protected Book List was generated by previous teachers and committees to organize supplemental content for classroom instruction. Books on this list were compared to other districts and classrooms and were then classified for the appropriate age group. By doing so, English teachers ensured that a book more appropriate for high school students was not studied at the middle school level.

The ELA High School Supplemental Book List organizes the content by grade level in an easy to read format. The list was created through a review of the previous High School Protected Book List by English teachers, departments, and curriculum teams in order to precisely determine which books are being studied in ELA classrooms. This list will be reviewed by curriculum teams annually.

Any book not on this list is not part of the approved curriculum. Procedures to add new content to this list, to review a placement of a book from or to a particular grade level, and to review a book for instructional use are outlined on the last page of this document

Novels are organized into three categories: green (grade-level appropriate), yellow (special consideration - fill out novel proposal form and parent notification form - links located here and on novel list) It will take 4-6 weeks for this novel to be reviewed once the proposal form has been submitted; allow an additional 2 weeks after sending the parent notification form., red (not recommended for use). Novels denoted as: Course (C) are part of the SAVVAS myPerspectives curriculum; Teacher Selected (T) are on the approved list but may not be available at all high schools. Warehouse (W) can be ordered from the Warehouse.

Secondary Novel Review Committee:

The Secondary Novel Review Committee has been formed to facilitate book proposals and/or book reviews to the currently adopted curriculum. This committee is composed of ELA teachers, administrators, district personnel, and parents; there is at least one representative from each high school campus. If anyone would like to join this committee, please click on this link: <https://www.susd.org/Committees>.

This committee meets on an as needed basis, especially when:

- A teacher would like to suggest a new book to be added to the curriculum.
- A review is suggested of a current book that is part of the already approved curriculum.

Process to Propose a New Book to the Curriculum:

- A teacher who wishes to propose a new book to be added to the curriculum completes a proposal form that details the summary, instructional purpose, and content concerns.
- The teacher submits the form to the Secondary Novel Review Committee for evaluation.
- The Secondary Novel Review Committee reads and evaluates the book using a rubric. This rubric is used to focus the discussion of the committee and formulate a recommendation.
- The Committee would then come to a consensus regarding a recommendation.
- Recommendations are taken to the Governing Board for final approval.
- If approved, the recommendation would be to add the title to the Supplemental Book List.

Process to Change a Level of a Book:

- A teacher who wishes to request that a book be moved from one grade level to another submits the request to the campus's curriculum team representative.
- The suggestion of the grade level change of a book is added to the agenda of the upcoming curriculum team meeting.
- The curriculum team discusses the merits of changing the level of the book and makes a recommendation.
- If the curriculum team cannot come to a consensus with a decision, the suggestion of the grade level change would be added to the agenda of the Secondary Novel Review Committee.
- The Secondary Novel Review Committee discusses the merits of the grade level change of the book and makes its recommendation, which would then be reflected on the ELA High School Supplemental Book List.

Process to Suggest a Review of a Book:

- A community member suggests a review of a book that is already approved for instructional use.
- The community member discusses his or her concerns with a teacher, a media specialist, or an administrator regarding the book's placement.
- The community member fills out a form outlining his or her concerns and submits the form to the Secondary Novel Review Committee.
- The Secondary Novel Review Committee reads and evaluates the book using a rubric. This rubric is to focus the discussion of the committee.
- The Committee makes its recommendation to either keep or remove the book for classroom use. The committee may also suggest a different grade level placement of the book.
